

10.12.2009 New Findings About Brain Proteins Suggest Possible Way To Fight Alzheimer's

ScienceDaily

The action of a small protein that is a major villain in Alzheimer's disease can be counterbalanced with another brain protein, researchers at UT Southwestern Medical Center have found in an animal study.